

Contents

List of illustrations	viii
List of boxes	ix
Acknowledgements	x
Publisher's acknowledgements	xi
Maps	xii
Preface	xvii
Glossary	xviii
1 From tsarism to revolution, 1894–1917	1
Social and political conditions in tsarist Russia	1
The war with Japan	3
The 1905 Revolution	5
The time of the Dumas	8
Stolypin's reforms	10
The alliance system	13
The First World War	15
The February Revolution	18
The return of Lenin	22
The July Days	24
The Kornilov revolt	26
2 The October Revolution, 1917–1921	31
The Constituent Assembly	37
Making peace with the Central Powers	39
The Cheka and the beginning of the Red Terror	41
The start of War Communism	44
The start of the civil war	45
Red victory	49
The war with the Poles	51
The end of the civil war	52
The Kronstadt rebellion	53
3 NEP and the rise of Stalin, 1921–1928	58
The formation of the USSR	58
The start of the New Economic Policy	62
The development of a Soviet bureaucracy	65

The rise of Stalin	68
The death of Lenin	71
The formation of the United Opposition	74
Propaganda, literacy, and education	76
Foreign policy in the 1920s	82
Summary: the 1920s	89
4 Collectivization, industrialization and the Great Purge, 1929–1940	91
Introduction	91
The decision to collectivize agriculture	92
Mass collectivization begins	94
The Great Famine in Ukraine	98
Completion of collectivization	102
The start of industrialization	103
The purges	108
Socialist Realism begins	116
Foreign policy in the 1930s	120
Popular Fronts	122
Toward the Nazi–Soviet Pact	124
5 The Great Patriotic War and aftermath, 1941–1953	135
Early stages	135
The assault on Leningrad and Kyiv	141
Operation Typhoon: the attack on Moscow	142
The Partisan movement	145
Stalingrad	146
Wartime culture: the peak of Socialist Realism	150
The Battle of Kursk Salient	154
Stalin and his allies	156
Victory in the West and in the East	161
The results of the Great Patriotic War	162
Economic recovery	165
Armed resistance	167
The period of High Stalinism	169
6 Khrushchev's reforms, 1953–1964; and postwar foreign policy	176
The succession question	176
The Virgin Lands Program	181
The 20th Party Congress	183
The attack on the Russian Orthodox Church	190
Cultural thaw	191
Foreign policy during the early Cold War, 1945–1963	194
Another plot	217

7	The Brezhnev regime and its successors, 1964–1984	222
	Introduction	222
	Leonid Ilich Brezhnev	224
	The economy	225
	The Constitution of 1977	230
	Language and political questions in the national republics	231
	Foreign policy under Brezhnev	234
	Culture under Brezhnev	249
	The dissident movement	253
	The last years of the Brezhnev regime	254
	The interlude: Andropov and Chernenko	255
8	Gorbachev, Glasnost and Perestroika, 1985–1991	260
	Introduction	260
	The Chernobyl disaster	263
	The development of Glasnost	269
	Politics under Gorbachev	275
	The perils of Perestroika	282
	Foreign policy	285
	The national question	290
	1991 – the year of collapse	295
	The Soviet legacy in retrospect	299
9	From Yeltsin to Putin: Russia's decline and recovery, 1992–2008	304
	Vladimir V. Putin	312
	Political events, 2000–2008	314
	The attack on the oligarchs	315
	Presidential elections of 2004	317
	Russia and its neighbors	319
	Chechnya: terrorism and the resumption of war	322
	Partnerships	324
	The 2007 parliamentary elections	325
	Gazprom and economic revival	328
	Historical memory and the modern state	329
	Bibliography of older works	338
	Index	351