

Contents

List of Figures	ix
Acknowledgments	xi
Introduction: A Dreadful Fascination	i
1. Arms and the Bard: Soldiering in Shakespeare	8
2. Bury Their Hearts at Horseshoe Bend	26
3. Ted Turner et al. at Gettysburg; or, Reenactors in the Attic	36
4. What Lady Butler Knew	50
5. Qingdao and the Archaeologies of War	55
6. Ralph Vaughan Williams's Long Journey Out of War	66
7. History and Memory in the Great War Paintings of John Singer Sargent	79
8. The Great Party Crasher: Mrs. Dalloway , The Great Gatsby , and the Cultures of World War I Remembering	89
9. What Kurt Vonnegut Saw in World War II That Made Him Insane (Along with Billy Pilgrim, Rabo Karabekian, Eliot Rosewater, and Others)	112
10. Script by Stephen Crane, Novel by John Huston, Movie by MGM	126
11. In the Museo de la Revolución; or, The Ghost of José Martí	140
12. By the Numbers: Americans, Vietnamese, and the Figures of Sacrifice	156
Conclusion: The Forever Wars	170
Notes on Sources and Further Reading	175
Index	179