PART 1: ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT – CONCEPTS AND APPROACHES

Introduction
T.N. SRINIVASAN 3

Chapter 1
The Concept of Development
AMARTYA SEN 9
1. The Background 10
2. Production, growth, and development 12
3. Characteristics, functionings, and living 15
4. Freedom and capability 16
5. Weights and rankings 18
6. Values, instruments, and objects 20
7. Conclusion 23
References 24

Chapter 2
The Roots of Development Theory
W. ARTHUR LEWIS 27
1. Introduction 28
2. Sectoral imbalance 28
3. Overall balance 31
4. Organization 34
5. Conclusion 36
References 37
Chapter 3
Alternative Approaches to Development Economics
PRANAB BARDHAN

1. Introduction 40
2. Theory of the household 40
3. Institutions and resource allocation 45
4. Income distribution and growth 51
5. Trade and development 57
6. Economic policy and the state 63
7. Concluding remarks 66
References 68

Chapter 4
Analytics of Development: Dualism
GUSTAV RANIS

1. Introduction 74
2. Dualism in the history of economic thought 75
3. The modern analytics of closed dualism 76
4. Dualism in the open economy 86
References 91

Chapter 5
Economic Organization, Information, and Development
JOSEPH E. STIGLITZ

1. Introduction 94
2. Basic tenets and objectives of analysis 96
   2.1. Stylized facts 96
   2.2. Alternative approaches 96
3. The theory of rural organization 105
   3.1. The organization of the family 105
   3.2. The landlord-tenant relationship: The sharecropping puzzle 115
   3.3. Unemployment in the rural sector 125
   3.4. The rural sector as a whole: The interlinkage of markets 133
4. The urban sector 134
5. Market equilibrium 136
6. Government pricing policies, wage subsidies, and cost-benefit analysis 140
7. The development process 142
   7.1. Factor supplies 142
   7.2. Technical change and entrepreneurship 147
   7.3 Development strategies 150
Contents of Volume I

8. Concluding remarks 153
  8.1. Choice of managers 153
  8.2. Market failures and government failures 153
References 157

Chapter 6
Long-Run Income Distribution and Growth
LANCE TAYLOR and PERSIO ARIDA 161
  1. Introduction 162
  2. The heirs of Schumpeter 163
  3. Demand-driven models 165
  4. Resource limitations and reproduction 169
  5. Shades of Marx 174
  6. The neoclassical resurgence – trade 178
  7. Structuralists versus monetarists 184
  8. Patterns of growth 187
  9. Conclusions 189
References 190

PART 2: STRUCTURAL TRANSFORMATION

Introduction
HOLLIS CHENERY 197

Chapter 7
Patterns of Structural Change
MOSHE SYRQUIN 203
  0. Introduction 205
  1. The study of structural change 206
    1.1. Structural change in economic history 209
    1.2. Structural change in development economics 211
    1.3. The need for a typology 214
  2. Empirical research on the structural transformation 216
    2.1. Bases for comparative analysis 216
    2.2. A unique path of development? 217
    2.3. The methodology of comparative analysis 218
    2.4. Time-series vs. cross-section studies 221
  3. Patterns of growth and accumulation 223
    3.1. Growth patterns 223
    3.2. Accumulation 225
Contents of Volume I

4. Changes in sector proportions 228
   4.1. The accounting framework 230
   4.2. Final demand 231
   4.3. Intermediate demand 231
   4.4. Trade 232
   4.5. Structure of production: Broad sectors 235
   4.6. Post-war patterns 239
   4.7. Manufacturing: Disaggregated results 242

5. Structure and growth 243
   5.1. Sectoral contributions to growth 244
   5.2. Typology of development patterns 248

6. Accounting for the transformation 250
   6.1. Growth accounting: Demand side decomposition 250
   6.2. Growth accounting: Supply side 254
   6.3. Resource shifts and productivity growth 255

7. Relative prices and exchange rate conversions 258
   7.1. Relative prices 259
   7.2. Exchange-rate conversions 262

8. Approaches to policy 265

References 268

Chapter 8

The Agricultural Transformation

C. PETER TIMMER 275

1. Introduction 276

2. The process of agricultural transformation 279
   2.1. Evolving stages 280
   2.2. Agriculture and economic development 283
   2.3. The role of the agricultural sector 288

3. Why agriculture is different 291
   3.1. Decision-making in agriculture 292
   3.2. Characteristics of agricultural production functions 294
   3.3. The farm household as both producer and consumer 299
   3.4. What difference does the difference make? 300

4. Transforming agriculture 302
   4.1. The sources and dynamics of technical change 302
   4.2. Unresolved issues 313

5. Agricultural development strategy 321
   5.1. Policies for “getting agriculture moving” 321
   5.2. Alternative strategies for maintaining the transformation process 323
   5.3. Agricultural policy and structural change 327

References 328
Chapter 9
Industrialization and Trade
HOWARD PACK

1. Introduction 334
2. A retrospective 336
   2.1. The compression of the industrialization process 336
   2.2. Initial conditions 337
   2.3. The elasticity of factor supplies 338
   2.4. The role of rationality 341
   2.5. The role of international trade 341
3. The evolving structure of production 342
   3.1. Normal patterns 342
   3.2. The impact of policy intervention 344
   3.3. Import substitution, exports, and the patterns of growth 344
4. The impact of trade on industrial performance 346
   4.1. Industrial productivity – a key variable 346
   4.2. The costs of protection 347
   4.3. Trade orientation and the growth of total factor productivity 348
   4.4. The empirical evidence 352
   4.5. Cross-country models 356
   4.6. The large country puzzle 357
5. Micro studies of productivity 358
   5.1. Early intercountry comparisons of productivity levels 358
   5.2. The Hirschman hypothesis 359
   5.3. Firm-level productivity studies in the less developed countries 360
6. Employment creation in the manufacturing sector 365
   6.1. The choice of technology 366
   6.2. Factor market distortions and information costs 369
   6.3. The aggregate gains from improved technology choice 370
7. Conclusions 371
References 372

Chapter 10
Saving and Development
MARK GERSOVITZ

1. Introduction 382
2. Personal savings 383
   2.1. A simple model of individual saving 384
   2.2. Evidence on the simple model 385
   2.3. Uncertainty and saving 390
   2.4. Borrowing constraints 392
   2.5. Education and asset choice 394
Chapter II
Migration and Urbanization
JEFFREY G. WILLIAMSON

1. The problem
2. The urban transition
   2.1. Quantifying the urban transition
   2.2. Migrant selectivity bias
   2.3. Selectivity bias, the brain drain, and remittances
   2.4. City growth, migration, and labor absorption
3. Disequilibrating labor market shocks and equilibrating migrant responses
   3.1. Disequilibrium and wage gaps
   3.2. Are migrants rational?
   3.3. Are there too many city immigrants?
4. What does "overurbanization" mean?
   4.1. Push, pull, and the engines of city growth
   4.2. The urban bias
5. How do urban labor markets work?
   5.1. The evolution of conventional wisdom
   5.2. The Todaro model
   5.3. Critique: How do urban labor markets really work?
   5.4. Some evidence
6. Migration and city growth in general equilibrium: What are the driving forces?
   6.1. What drives Third World migration and city growth?
   6.2. Modeling migration and city growth
   6.3. Understanding the past and projecting the future
7. Where do we go from here?

Chapter 12
Economic Approaches to Population Growth
NANCY BIRDSALL

1. Introduction and overview
2. Recent demographic change in the developing world
3. Macroeconomic analyses of the economic consequences of population growth
   3.1. Malthus and successor pessimists
   3.2. The optimists
   3.3. The revisionists
4. Microeconomic foundations: The determinants of fertility
   4.1. Economic models of fertility behavior
   4.2. Fertility models: Differences, conceptual limitations
   4.3. Empirical studies of fertility behavior
   4.4. Endogenous fertility, optimal population size, and social welfare
5. The welfare economics of public policies to reduce fertility
   5.1. Externalities
   5.2. Fertility control and market failure
   5.3. Specific policies
6. Summary and conclusions

Chapter 13
Education Investments and Returns
T. PAUL SCHULTZ

1. Introduction and preview
   1.1. An overview
   1.2. Problems: Conceptual and empirical
2. National educational systems: Interpretation of aggregate patterns
   2.1. World trends
   2.2. Adjustment of the educational system to demand and supply
   2.3. A model of the educational system
   2.4. An empirical decomposition of educational expenditures
   2.5. Estimates of school expenditure equations
   2.6. Sex differences in school enrollment rates
   2.7. Regional patterns in residuals
   2.8. Cross-sectional findings and time-series forecasts

Health and Nutrition

JERE R. BEHRMAN and ANIL B. DEOLALIKAR

1. Introduction 633

2. Theoretical framework 637
   2.1. Micro considerations: Household production functions and reduced-form demands for health and nutrients 637
   2.2. Supply considerations 649
   2.3. Macro or aggregate considerations 649

3. Measurement and estimation problems in health and nutrition relations 650
   3.1. Measurement of health status 650
   3.2. Measurement of nutrient intakes and nutritional status 653
   3.3. Measurement of non-nutrient health-related inputs 656
   3.4. Measurement of prices, health-related inputs, and assets 657
   3.5. Estimation problems 658

4. Empirical studies of determinants of health and nutrition in developing countries 660
   4.1. Determinants of health 660
   4.2. Determinants of nutrients 674

5. Empirical studies of the impact of health and nutrition in developing countries 683
   5.1. Impact on labor productivity 683
   5.2. Impact on schooling productivity 688
Contents of Volume I

5.3. Impact of female nutrition on fertility 689
5.4. Impact of infant mortality on fertility 690
6. Empirical studies on supply considerations and related policies 692
   6.1. Food subsidies 692
   6.2. Other health goods and services subsidies 696
   6.3. Impact of macro adjustment policies on health and nutrition 697
7. Summary and conclusions 698
   7.1. Summary of available studies 698
   7.2. Directions for future research 702

Chapter 15
Labor Markets in Low-Income Countries
MARK R. ROSENZWEIG 713

1. Introduction 714
2. Employment and wage determination in rural labor markets 715
   2.1. Surplus labor, disguised employment and unemployment 715
   2.2. The family enterprise model and agricultural dualism 728
3. Rural labor contracts: Risk, information and incentives problems 733
   3.1. Casual and permanent laborers: Spot and future markets for labor 736
   3.2. Tenancy contracts 738
4. Geographic mobility 743
   4.1. The basic human capital model of migration 744
   4.2. Information and capital market constraints on mobility 745
   4.3. Two-sector unemployment equilibrium models 746
   4.4. Risk, remittances and family behavior 751
   4.5. Heterogeneity and selective migration 753
5. Urban labor markets 754
   5.1. Diversity and unemployment 754
   5.2. Urban dualism and dual labor markets 756
6. Conclusion 757

Chapter 16
Credit Markets and Interlinked Transactions
CLIVE BELL 763

1. Introduction 764
2. Credit markets 766
   2.1. The credit contract 769
   2.2. Innovation and the rate of interest 782
   2.3. Public policy 783
   2.4. Some evidence 791
3. Interlinked transactions
  3.1. The causes of interlinking 798
  3.2. The interlinking of tenancy with credit: The principal–agent approach 803
  3.3. An alternative to contract-taking equilibrium: The Nash bargaining solution 810
  3.4. Interlinking and innovation 813
  3.5. Welfare and income distribution 816
  3.6. Policy reforms 823
