PART 1: ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT – CONCEPTS AND APPROACHES

Introduction
T.N. SRINIVASAN 3

Chapter 1
The Concept of Development
AMARTYA SEN 9

1. The Background 10
2. Production, growth, and development 12
3. Characteristics, functionings, and living 15
4. Freedom and capability 16
5. Weights and rankings 18
6. Values, instruments, and objects 20
7. Conclusion 23
References 24

Chapter 2
The Roots of Development Theory
W. ARTHUR LEWIS 27

1. Introduction 28
2. Sectoral imbalance 28
3. Overall balance 31
4. Organization 34
5. Conclusion 36
References 37
Chapter 3
Alternative Approaches to Development Economics

PRANAB BARDHAN

1. Introduction .............................................. 40
2. Theory of the household ................................. 40
3. Institutions and resource allocation ................. 45
4. Income distribution and growth ........................ 51
5. Trade and development ................................ 57
6. Economic policy and the state ....................... 63
7. Concluding remarks ..................................... 66

References ................................................. 68

Chapter 4
Analytics of Development: Dualism

GUSTAV RANIS

1. Introduction ............................................. 74
2. Dualism in the history of economic thought .......... 75
3. The modern analytics of closed dualism .............. 76
4. Dualism in the open economy ......................... 86

References ................................................. 91

Chapter 5
Economic Organization, Information, and Development

JOSEPH E. STIGLITZ

1. Introduction ............................................. 94
2. Basic tenets and objectives of analysis ............... 96
   2.1. Stylized facts .................................. 96
   2.2. Alternative approaches ......................... 96
3. The theory of rural organization .................... 105
   3.1. The organization of the family ................. 105
   3.2. The landlord-tenant relationship: The sharecropping puzzle 115
   3.3. Unemployment in the rural sector ............. 125
   3.4. The rural sector as a whole: The interlinkage of markets 133
4. The urban sector ....................................... 134
5. Market equilibrium .................................... 136
6. Government pricing policies, wage subsidies, and cost–benefit analysis 140
7. The development process .............................. 142
   7.1. Factor supplies .................................. 142
   7.2. Technical change and entrepreneurship ........ 147
   7.3 Development strategies .......................... 150
8. Concluding remarks

8.1. Choice of managers
8.2. Market failures and government failures

The Agricultural Transformation
C. PETER TIMMER

1. Introduction
2. The process of agricultural transformation
2.1. Evolving stages
2.2. Agriculture and economic development
2.3. The role of the agricultural sector
3. Why agriculture is different
3.1. Decision-making in agriculture
3.2. Characteristics of agricultural production functions
3.3. The farm household as both producer and consumer
3.4. What difference does the difference make?
4. Transforming agriculture
4.1. The sources and dynamics of technical change
4.2. Unresolved issues
5. Agricultural development strategy
5.1. Policies for “getting agriculture moving”
5.2. Alternative strategies for maintaining the transformation process
5.3. Agricultural policy and structural change

Industrialization and Trade

HOWARD PACK

1. Introduction
2. A retrospective
   2.1. The compression of the industrialization process
   2.2. Initial conditions
   2.3. The elasticity of factor supplies
   2.4. The role of rationality
   2.5. The role of international trade
3. The evolving structure of production
   3.1. Normal patterns
   3.2. The impact of policy intervention
   3.3. Import substitution, exports, and the patterns of growth
4. The impact of trade on industrial performance
   4.1. Industrial productivity—a key variable
   4.2. The costs of protection
   4.3. Trade orientation and the growth of total factor productivity
   4.4. The empirical evidence
   4.5. Cross-country models
   4.6. The large country puzzle
5. Micro studies of productivity
   5.1. Early intercountry comparisons of productivity levels
   5.2. The Hirschman hypothesis
   5.3. Firm-level productivity studies in the less developed countries
6. Employment creation in the manufacturing sector
   6.1. The choice of technology
   6.2. Factor market distortions and information costs
   6.3. The aggregate gains from improved technology choice

Migration and Urbanization

JEFFREY G. WILLIAMSON

| 1. The problem | 426 |
| 2. The urban transition | 427 |
| 2.1. Quantifying the urban transition | 427 |
| 2.2. Migrant selectivity bias | 430 |
| 2.3. Selectivity bias, the brain drain, and remittances | 431 |
| 2.4. City growth, migration, and labor absorption | 433 |
| 3. Disequilibrating labor market shocks and equilibrating migrant responses | 433 |
| 3.1. Disequilibrium and wage gaps | 433 |
| 3.2. Are migrants rational? | 435 |
| 3.3. Are there too many city immigrants? | 437 |
| 4. What does “overurbanization” mean? | 439 |
| 4.1. Push, pull, and the engines of city growth | 439 |
| 4.2. The urban bias | 441 |
| 5. How do urban labor markets work? | 442 |
| 5.1. The evolution of conventional wisdom | 442 |
| 5.2. The Todaro model | 443 |
| 5.3. Critique: How do urban labor markets really work? | 445 |
| 5.4. Some evidence | 446 |
| 6. Migration and city growth in general equilibrium: What are the driving forces? | 449 |
| 6.1. What drives Third World migration and city growth? | 449 |
| 6.2. Modeling migration and city growth | 453 |
| 6.3. Understanding the past and projecting the future | 455 |

Introduction
T.N. SRINIVASAN 469

Chapter 12
Economic Approaches to Population Growth
NANCY BIRDSALL 477

1. Introduction and overview 478
2. Recent demographic change in the developing world 479
3. Macroeconomic analyses of the economic consequences of population growth 483
   3.1. Malthus and successor pessimists 486
   3.2. The optimists 490
   3.3. The revisionists 493
4. Microeconomic foundations: The determinants of fertility 501
   4.1. Economic models of fertility behavior 503
   4.2. Fertility models: Differences, conceptual limitations 509
   4.3. Empirical studies of fertility behavior 512
   4.4. Endogenous fertility, optimal population size, and social welfare 522
5. The welfare economics of public policies to reduce fertility 523
   5.1. Externalities 523
   5.2. Fertility control and market failure 525
   5.3. Specific policies 526
6. Summary and conclusions 529

Chapter 13
Education Investments and Returns
T. PAUL SCHULTZ 543

1. Introduction and preview 544
   1.1. An overview 545
   1.2. Problems: Conceptual and empirical 547
2. National educational systems: Interpretation of aggregate patterns 550
   2.1. World trends 551
   2.2. Adjustment of the educational system to demand and supply 557
   2.3. A model of the educational system 562
   2.4. An empirical decomposition of educational expenditures 564
   2.5. Estimates of school expenditure equations 568
   2.6. Sex differences in school enrollment rates 571
   2.7. Regional patterns in residuals 573
   2.8. Cross-sectional findings and time-series forecasts 575
3. Alternative models of education and earnings, data, and policy implications 577
4. Rates of return to schooling in market activities 585
  4.1. Student ability, parent background, and school quality 587
  4.2. Labor supply and unemployment 591
  4.3. Occupational choice 593
  4.4. The education and productivity of farmers 597
  4.5. Migration 599
  4.6. Male–female comparisons of returns 602
  4.7. Interactions with educational returns 605
  4.8. Efficiency and equity 606
5. Nonmarket production and schooling 607
6. Policy 610
7. Conclusions 615

Chapter 14
Health and Nutrition
JERE R. BEHRMAN and ANIL B. DEOLALIKAR 631
1. Introduction 633
2. Theoretical framework 637
  2.1. Micro considerations: Household production functions and reduced-form demands for health and nutrients 637
  2.2. Supply considerations 649
  2.3. Macro or aggregate considerations 649
3. Measurement and estimation problems in health and nutrition relations 650
  3.1. Measurement of health status 650
  3.2. Measurement of nutrient intakes and nutritional status 653
  3.3. Measurement of non-nutrient health-related inputs 656
  3.4. Measurement of prices, health-related inputs, and assets 657
  3.5. Estimation problems 658
4. Empirical studies of determinants of health and nutrition in developing countries 660
  4.1. Determinants of health 660
  4.2. Determinants of nutrients 674
5. Empirical studies of the impact of health and nutrition in developing countries 683
  5.1. Impact on labor productivity 683
  5.2. Impact on schooling productivity 688
Contents of Volume I

5.3. Impact of female nutrition on fertility 689
5.4. Impact of infant mortality on fertility 690
6. Empirical studies on supply considerations and related policies 692
   6.1. Food subsidies 692
   6.2. Other health goods and services subsidies 696
   6.3. Impact of macro adjustment policies on health and nutrition 697
7. Summary and conclusions 698
   7.1. Summary of available studies 698
   7.2. Directions for future research 702

Chapter 15
Labor Markets in Low-Income Countries
MARK R. ROSENZWEIG 713
1. Introduction 714
2. Employment and wage determination in rural labor markets 715
   2.1. Surplus labor, disguised employment and unemployment 715
   2.2. The family enterprise model and agricultural dualism 728
3. Rural labor contracts: Risk, information and incentives problems 733
   3.1. Casual and permanent laborers: Spot and future markets for labor 736
   3.2. Tenancy contracts 738
4. Geographic mobility 743
   4.1. The basic human capital model of migration 744
   4.2. Information and capital market constraints on mobility 745
   4.3. Two-sector unemployment equilibrium models 746
   4.4. Risk, remittances and family behavior 751
   4.5. Heterogeneity and selective migration 753
5. Urban labor markets 754
   5.1. Diversity and unemployment 754
   5.2. Urban dualism and dual labor markets 756
6. Conclusion 757
