

{ CONTENTS }

Acknowledgments	vii
Chronology of the American Women's Suffrage Campaign	xi
Introduction: Throwing the Voice and Making It New	3
1. "Seditious Organs": The Noise of Modern Suffrage Print Culture	27
2. "Voiceless" Speech: The Silence of Modern Suffrage Print Culture	54
3. "Magpie Habit": Quotation and Ventriloquism in Alice Duer Miller's " Are Women People? "	86
4. Miss Marianne Moore: "Bulldoggy" on Suffrage	114
5. "Straight Talk, and Quick Talk": Conversation as a Politic in Modern Suffrage Fiction	147
6. Edith Eaton/Sui Sin Far's "Revolutions in Ink": Print Cultural Alternatives to U.S. Suffrage Discourse	174
Coda: Genealogies of Modernism and Suffrage: The Mother[s] of Us All	206
Notes	225
Bibliography	241
Index	265