

Table of contents

Acknowledgements	VII
List of contributors	IX
List of abbreviations	XVII
List of figures, tables, charts and pictures	XIX
CHAPTER 1
The politics of multilingualism: General introduction and overview François Grin and Peter A. Kraus	1
Part I. Reconceptualising multilingualism and collective identity
CHAPTER 2
The politics of multilingualism in Canada: A neo-institutional approach Linda Cardinal and Rémi Léger	19
CHAPTER 3
A Russian-speaking nation? The promotion of the Russian language and its significance for ongoing efforts at Russian nation-building Konstantin Zamyatin	39
CHAPTER 4
The impact of mobility and migration on the identity-constructing policy in Brussels Rudi Janssens	65
CHAPTER 5
From glossophagic hegemony to multilingual pluralism? Re-assessing the politics of linguistic identity in Europe Peter A. Kraus	89
CHAPTER 6
Transient linguistic landscapes of activism: Protesting against austerity policies in the Eurozone Virginie Mamadouh	111

Part II. Linguistic hegemony, insecurity and linguistic justice

CHAPTER 7

- How to measure linguistic justice? Theoretical considerations and the South Tyrol case study of the Calvet Language Barometer 145
Federico Gobbo

CHAPTER 8

- Linguistic justice and English as a Lingua Franca 167
Helder De Schutter

CHAPTER 9

- The promise and pitfalls of global English 201
Thomas Ricento

CHAPTER 10

- Languages, norms and power in a globalised context 223
László Marác

Part III. Lingua Franca and global linguistic governance

CHAPTER 11

- On some fashionable terms in multilingualism research:
Critical assessment and implications for language policy 247
François Grin

CHAPTER 12

- English, the Lingua Nullius of global hegemony 275
Robert Phillipson

CHAPTER 13

- Idealism or pragmatism? Ad hoc multilingualism and Open English 305
Astrid von Busekist

CHAPTER 14

- European integration and the variety of languages:
An awkward co-existence 333
Jean-Claude Barbier

- Author index 359

- Subject index 365