PART 1: ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT – CONCEPTS AND APPROACHES

Introduction
T.N. SRINIVASAN 3

Chapter 1
The Concept of Development
AMARTYA SEN 9
  1. The Background 10
  2. Production, growth, and development 12
  3. Characteristics, functionings, and living 15
  4. Freedom and capability 16
  5. Weights and rankings 18
  6. Values, instruments, and objects 20
  7. Conclusion 23
References 24

Chapter 2
The Roots of Development Theory
W. ARTHUR LEWIS 27
  1. Introduction 28
  2. Sectoral imbalance 28
  3. Overall balance 31
  4. Organization 34
  5. Conclusion 36
References 37
Chapter 3
Alternative Approaches to Development Economics
PRANAB BARDHAN
1. Introduction 40
2. Theory of the household 40
3. Institutions and resource allocation 45
4. Income distribution and growth 51
5. Trade and development 57
6. Economic policy and the state 63
7. Concluding remarks 66
References 68

Chapter 4
Analytics of Development: Dualism
GUSTAV RANIS
1. Introduction 74
2. Dualism in the history of economic thought 75
3. The modern analytics of closed dualism 76
4. Dualism in the open economy 86
References 91

Chapter 5
Economic Organization, Information, and Development
JOSEPH E. STIGLITZ
1. Introduction 94
2. Basic tenets and objectives of analysis
   2.1. Stylized facts 96
   2.2. Alternative approaches 96
3. The theory of rural organization 105
   3.1. The organization of the family 105
   3.2. The landlord-tenant relationship: The sharecropping puzzle 115
   3.3. Unemployment in the rural sector 125
   3.4. The rural sector as a whole: The interlinkage of markets 133
4. The urban sector 134
5. Market equilibrium 136
6. Government pricing policies, wage subsidies, and cost-benefit analysis 140
7. The development process
   7.1. Factor supplies 142
   7.2. Technical change and entrepreneurship 147
   7.3 Development strategies 150
Chapter 9
Industrialization and Trade
HOWARD PACK 333

1. Introduction 334
2. A retrospective 336
   2.1. The compression of the industrialization process 336
   2.2. Initial conditions 337
   2.3. The elasticity of factor supplies 338
   2.4. The role of rationality 341
   2.5. The role of international trade 341
3. The evolving structure of production 342
   3.1. Normal patterns 342
   3.2. The impact of policy intervention 344
   3.3. Import substitution, exports, and the patterns of growth 344
4. The impact of trade on industrial performance 346
   4.1. Industrial productivity – a key variable 346
   4.2. The costs of protection 347
   4.3. Trade orientation and the growth of total factor productivity 348
   4.4. The empirical evidence 352
   4.5. Cross-country models 356
   4.6. The large country puzzle 357
5. Micro studies of productivity 358
   5.1. Early intercountry comparisons of productivity levels 358
   5.2. The Hirschman hypothesis 359
   5.3. Firm-level productivity studies in the less developed countries 360
6. Employment creation in the manufacturing sector 365
   6.1. The choice of technology 366
   6.2. Factor market distortions and information costs 369
   6.3. The aggregate gains from improved technology choice 370
7. Conclusions 371

References 372

Chapter 10
Saving and Development
MARK GERSOVITZ 381

1. Introduction 382
2. Personal savings 383
   2.1. A simple model of individual saving 384
   2.2. Evidence on the simple model 385
   2.3. Uncertainty and saving 390
   2.4. Borrowing constraints 392
   2.5. Education and asset choice 394
Chapter 11
Migration and Urbanization
JEFFREY G. WILLIAMSON

1. The problem
2. The urban transition
   2.1. Quantifying the urban transition
   2.2. Migrant selectivity bias
   2.3. Selectivity bias, the brain drain, and remittances
   2.4. City growth, migration, and labor absorption
3. Disequilibrating labor market shocks and equilibrating migrant responses
   3.1. Disequilibrium and wage gaps
   3.2. Are migrants rational?
   3.3. Are there too many city immigrants?
4. What does “overurbanization” mean?
   4.1. Push, pull, and the engines of city growth
   4.2. The urban bias
5. How do urban labor markets work?
   5.1. The evolution of conventional wisdom
   5.2. The Todaro model
   5.3. Critique: How do urban labor markets really work?
   5.4. Some evidence
6. Migration and city growth in general equilibrium: What are the driving forces?
   6.1. What drives Third World migration and city growth?
   6.2. Modeling migration and city growth
   6.3. Understanding the past and projecting the future
7. Where do we go from here?

Chapter 12
Economic Approaches to Population Growth
NANCY BIRDSALL 477

1. Introduction and overview 478
2. Recent demographic change in the developing world 479
3. Macroeconomic analyses of the economic consequences of population growth 483
   3.1. Malthus and successor pessimists 486
   3.2. The optimists 490
   3.3. The revisionists 493
4. Microeconomic foundations: The determinants of fertility 501
   4.1. Economic models of fertility behavior 503
   4.2. Fertility models: Differences, conceptual limitations 509
   4.3. Empirical studies of fertility behavior 512
   4.4. Endogenous fertility, optimal population size, and social welfare 522
5. The welfare economics of public policies to reduce fertility 523
   5.1. Externalities 523
   5.2. Fertility control and market failure 525
   5.3. Specific policies 526
6. Summary and conclusions 529

Chapter 13
Education Investments and Returns
T. PAUL SCHULTZ 543

1. Introduction and preview 544
   1.1. An overview 545
   1.2. Problems: Conceptual and empirical 547
2. National educational systems: Interpretation of aggregate patterns 550
   2.1. World trends 551
   2.2. Adjustment of the educational system to demand and supply 557
   2.3. A model of the educational system 562
   2.4. An empirical decomposition of educational expenditures 564
   2.5. Estimates of school expenditure equations 568
   2.6. Sex differences in school enrollment rates 571
   2.7. Regional patterns in residuals 573
   2.8. Cross-sectional findings and time-series forecasts 575
3. Alternative models of education and earnings, data, and policy implications 577
4. Rates of return to schooling in market activities 585
  4.1. Student ability, parent background, and school quality 587
  4.2. Labor supply and unemployment 591
  4.3. Occupational choice 593
  4.4. The education and productivity of farmers 597
  4.5. Migration 599
  4.6. Male–female comparisons of returns 602
  4.7. Interactions with educational returns 605
  4.8. Efficiency and equity 606
5. Nonmarket production and schooling 607
6. Policy 610
7. Conclusions 615

Chapter 14
Health and Nutrition
JERE R. BEHRMAN and ANIL B. DEOLALIKAR 631
1. Introduction 633
2. Theoretical framework 637
  2.1. Micro considerations: Household production functions and reduced-form demands for health and nutrients 637
  2.2. Supply considerations 649
  2.3. Macro or aggregate considerations 649
3. Measurement and estimation problems in health and nutrition relations 650
  3.1. Measurement of health status 650
  3.2. Measurement of nutrient intakes and nutritional status 653
  3.3. Measurement of non-nutrient health-related inputs 656
  3.4. Measurement of prices, health-related inputs, and assets 657
  3.5. Estimation problems 658
4. Empirical studies of determinants of health and nutrition in developing countries 660
  4.1. Determinants of health 660
  4.2. Determinants of nutrients 674
5. Empirical studies of the impact of health and nutrition in developing countries 683
  5.1. Impact on labor productivity 683
  5.2. Impact on schooling productivity 688
Contents of Volume I

5.3. Impact of female nutrition on fertility 689
5.4. Impact of infant mortality on fertility 690
6. Empirical studies on supply considerations and related policies 692
6.1. Food subsidies 692
6.2. Other health goods and services subsidies 696
6.3. Impact of macro adjustment policies on health and nutrition 697
7. Summary and conclusions 698
7.1. Summary of available studies 698
7.2. Directions for future research 702

Chapter 15

Labor Markets in Low-Income Countries
MARK R. ROSENZWEIG 713
1. Introduction 714
2. Employment and wage determination in rural labor markets 715
2.1. Surplus labor, disguised employment and unemployment 715
2.2. The family enterprise model and agricultural dualism 728
3. Rural labor contracts: Risk, information and incentives problems 733
3.1. Casual and permanent laborers: Spot and future markets for labor 736
3.2. Tenancy contracts 738
4. Geographic mobility 743
4.1. The basic human capital model of migration 744
4.2. Information and capital market constraints on mobility 745
4.3. Two-sector unemployment equilibrium models 746
4.4. Risk, remittances and family behavior 751
4.5. Heterogeneity and selective migration 753
5. Urban labor markets 754
5.1. Diversity and unemployment 754
5.2. Urban dualism and dual labor markets 756
6. Conclusion 757

Chapter 18
Multisectoral Models
SHERMAN ROBINSON 885

1. Introduction and scope 886
2. Typologies of models 886
   2.1. Mathematical structure 887
   2.2. Policy issues 890

References
2.3. Analytic, stylized, and applied models 891
2.4. Theoretical paradigms 894
3. Input–output and social accounting 896
  3.1. Social accounting matrices 896
  3.2. Linear models in a SAM framework 901
  3.3. Prices and static SAM models 904
  3.4. Linear dynamic models 904
4. Computable general equilibrium models 906
  4.1. The structure of a CGE model 907
  4.2. A neoclassical, closed-economy, CGE model 908
  4.3. Extending the neoclassical CGE model 913
  4.4. An elasticity structuralist CGE model 917
  4.5. Micro structuralist models 923
  4.6. Macro structuralist models 927
5. Structural adjustment and alternative development strategies 932
6. Directions for future research 935
  6.1. Micro–macro interactions 935
  6.2. Dynamics 935
