

Contents

List of Figures	xiii
List of Tables	xiv
Preface	xv
Acknowledgements	xvii
Chapter 1 Introduction: Defining the Problem of Deforestation in Ghana	1
Background of the Problem	2
Deforestation in Ancient Ghana	3
Deforestation in the Colonial Era Ghana	4
Colonial Policies to Control Deforestation	5
Policies on Deforestation in Post-Colonial Ghana	6
Outcomes of Policies on Deforestation	8
Hypotheses	9
Objectives of the Research	10
Significance of the Research	10
Research Methodology and the Database	11
Library Research	12
Interviews	12
Explanatory Model of the Deforestation Policy Process in Ghana	13
Exploratory Survey on Attitudes of the Grassroots Population Towards Forests and Deforestation	15
Limitations of the Research	16
Organization of the Book	16

Chapter 2	Review of Related Literature	18
	Behavioral Theories on Policy Formulation	19
	Normative Theories on Public Policy Formulation	25
	Theories on the Public Policy Process in sub-Saharan Africa	30
	The Effects of the Indigenous Cultural Milieu on Policy Effectiveness	30
	Politics as a Factor in the Process, Content, and Outcomes of Public Policies in Sub-Saharan Africa	32
	Bureaucratic Power and its Implications to Public Policy	34
	Shortcomings of the Public Administration Institutions	36
	Conclusions	38
Chapter 3	The Forest Policy Process in Colonial Ghana	40
	The Role of Business Interests in the Political Economy of the Gold Coast	41
	The Policy Apparatus During the Colonial Era in Ghana	43
	British Colonial Objectives in Gold Coast	43
	Structure of the Colonial Policy-Making System	46
	Principal Institutions of the Policy Process in the Gold Coast	47
	The Monarchy	47
	The Colonial Office	47
	The Secretary of State for the Colonies	51
	The Governor	53
	The Colonial Executive Council of the Gold Coast	55
	The Gold Coast Colonial Legislative Council	56
	The Provincial and District Officers	59
	Goals of Colonial Era Forest Policies	61
	Sources and Content of Colonial Forest Policies in the Gold Coast	62
	Implementation of Colonial Forest Policies in the Gold Coast	65
	The Colonial Department of Forestry	66
	Activities of the Aborigines Rights Protection Society	67
	Outcomes of the Colonial Forest Policies in the Gold Coast	68
	Conclusions	69
Chapter 4	Contextual Setting of the Deforestation Policy Process in Ghana: Discussion of the Explanatory Model	72
	Limited Legitimacy of Ghanaian Governments:
	Consequences on The Outcomes of Deforestation Policies	73

The Political Atmosphere of the Public Policy-Making Process of Ghana	78
Political Instability	78
Policy-Making Under Constitutional Regimes	79
Policy-Making Under Military Regimes	80
Impact of the Media, Consumer and Interest Groups	80
Conclusions	80
Political Instability and its Effects on Deforestation Policies	81
Structure of the Ghanaian Economy: Prominence of Land and Forest Resources as Sources of Sustenance	83
The Need to Generate Revenues for Social and Economic Development Programs in Post-Independent Ghana	86
Population Growth: Implications of Increasing Demand for Land and Forest Resources	89
External Debt and Market-Driven External Demand for Ghanaian Timber	93
Effects of the New International Economic Order	93
The Political Economy of Stabilization and Structural Adjustment in Ghana: Implications to Deforestation Policies	94
Summary and Conclusions	97
Chapter 5 Review of the Content of Deforestation Policies in Post-Independence Ghana	101
Declared Deforestation Policy Goals of Ghanaian Governments	101
The Content of Deforestation Policies in Ghana	102
The Ghana Environmental Action Plan of 1988	103
The Ghana Environmental Action Plan of 1994	107
The Ghana Forest and Wildlife Policy, 1994	109
Strategies for Implementing Deforestation Policies in Ghana:
The Use of Acts, Decrees and Regulations	113
Criticisms of the Deforestation Policy Process in Ghana	115
Conclusion	118
Chapter 6 The Power and Dominance of Heads of Government and Politicians Over the Ghanaian Forest Policy Process	119
Ghanaian Heads of State: Their Status and Role in the Policy Process	120
Executive Dominance of the Policy Process
During The Nkrumah Regime	123
Political Power at the Regional Level	125
Power and the Policy Process at the Grassroots Level	126

Significance of the Ghanaian Bureaucracy Under Dr. Nkrumah	127
Public Policy-Making Under the National Liberation Council (1966-1969)	127
Power and Policy-Making During the Second Republic (1969-1972)	129
Political Power and the Policy Process Under the National Redemption Council/Supreme Military Council (NRC/SMC) Regime (1972-1979)	130
The Armed Forces Revolutionary Committee (AFRC) Era –1979	132
Political Power and Policy-Making Under the Third Republic (1980-1981)	132
The People's National Defense Committee (PNDC) Era: 1981-1992	132
Political Power and Policy-Making in the Fourth Republic of Ghana	134
Conclusion	135
Significance of the Scenario	136
 Chapter 7 The Roles of Bureaucratic and Non-Governmental Institutions in Determining the Outcome of the Forestry Policy Process	 137
Bureaucratic Institutions Within the Forestry Sector of Ghana	137
Extractive Bureaucracies Within the Forestry Sector of Ghana	139
The Lands Commission	139
The Timber Exports Development Board (TEDB)	141
The Forest Products Inspection Bureau (FPIB)	143
The Department of Forestry	144
Institutions Involved in the Management of Ghana's Forests and Addressing Deforestation	145
The Forestry Commission (FC)	145
Composition, Appointment, and Qualifications of the Forestry Commission	146
Functions of the Forestry Commission	147
Environmental Protection Agency (EPA)	148
Department of Game and Wildlife (DGW)	149
The Role of Non-Governmental Institutions	149
Impact of Timber Business Interests	150
Ghanaianization of the Timber Industry	150
Consequences of Business Interest Participation	150

Business Interest Involvement in the Policy	151
Process - the Contradiction	151
Enduring Foreign Influence Over Ghana's Forestry Policies	151
Enhanced Role of Private Business Interests Under Ghana's Structural Adjustment Program	152
Lack of Mutual Trust Between the Business Community and the Government	152
Impact of Traditional Rulers	153
The Role of Local Government Institutions (District Assemblies)	154
The Role of Non-Governmental Organizations	155
Conclusion	157
Chapter 8 An Ineffective Department of Forestry: Explanatory Factors	159
Mandate of the Department of Forestry and the Environment of its Operations	160
Organization of the Department of Forestry	161
Functional Characteristics and Shortcomings of the Department of Forestry	163
Problems of the Department of Forestry	165
The Political and Economic Contexts of the Department of Forestry	165
Inadequate Funding, Equipment, Facilities, and Manpower	165
Contradictory Functions of the Department of Forestry	169
Lack of Citizen Support	170
Lack of Judicial Support	172
Conclusions	173
Chapter 9 Recap and Policy Recommendations	175
Explanations for the Disconnection Between Policies and Outcomes	176
Factors from the External Environment of the Policy Process	176
Legacy of the Colonial Forestry Policy Process	176
Structure of the Ghanaian Economy:
Prominence of Land and Forest Resources	177
The Consequences of Increasing Demand for Fuel	178
The Effects of the Limited Legitimacy of the State and the Lack of Citizen Cooperation	178

The Effects of Ghana's Structural Adjustment Program	179
Factors Within the Internal Environment of the Forestry Policy Process	179
Priorities of the Dominant Actors in the Policy Process	179
Obstacles Facing the Department of Forestry	180
Outcomes of Attempts at Revising Forestry Policies in Ghana	181
The Problem	182
Policy Recommendations for Achieving the Sustainable Utilization of Forest Resources in Ghana	183
Policies for Achieving Sustainable Supplies for Forest Resources	183
Aggressively Undertake Afforestation	183
Modernize Agricultural Practices in Order to Reduce Incidental Damage and Destruction of Trees	184
Create a More Functional Department of Agriculture	185
Policies for Managing the Internal Demand for Farmlands and Forest Resources	185
Control Population Growth	185
Improve Currently Under-Utilized But Cultivable Lands	186
Increase Production of Alternative Sources of Meat	186
Reduce Demand for Firewood and Charcoal	186
Expand Research and Promote Alternative Sources of Inexpensive Energy	187
Economic Policies for Restructuring the Timber Sector	187
Transform the Timber Industry to Emphasize Fabrication	187
Price Forest Resources on Economic Grounds	188
Promote Exports of Non-Timber Forest Products	189
The Role of External Forces	189
Political and Institutional Policies to Alter the Internal Environment of the Forestry Policy Process	190
Redefine Forestry Policy Objectives	190
Enhance Role of Non-Governmental Stakeholders	191
Increase the Role of Local Organizations and NGOs	191
Re-Orientate Institutions For Effective Deforestation Policies	192
Transform the Department of Forestry	193
Formulate A New Mandate for the Forestry Commission	194
Overhaul The Timber Concessions Awarding Process	194
The Political Implications of the Policy Recommendations	195
Areas Requiring Further Research	196
Conclusion	196

Appendices	199
Endnotes	215
Bibliography	249
Index	263