

CONTENTS

1	Beyond Neoliberalism? Social Analysis after 1989 Marian Burchardt and Gal Kirn	1
Part I	Epistemic and Conceptual Shifts in the Wake of 1989	15
2	De-theorizing in Order to Re-theorize Emergent Alignments: A Ruminatio Saskia Sassen	17
3	A Triple Movement? Parsing the Politics of Crisis after Polanyi Nancy Fraser	29
4	A Critique of Transition Studies on Postsocialism, or How to Rethink and Reorient 1989? The Case of (Post)Socialist (Post)Yugoslavia Gal Kirn	43
5	A Fractured Globe: Anthropology and Narration after 1989 Ajay Gandhi	69

6	Postcolonial Criticism after 1989: A Conversation with Gal Kirn and Marian Burchardt	83
	Dipesh Chakrabarty
Part II	New Narratives of Capitalism: Interrogating Knowledge Production and Ethnography	95
7	Cash and Livelihood in Soft Currency Economies: Challenges for Research	97
	Jane I. Guyer
8	Rationality, Risk, Uncertainty, and Islamic Finance	117
	Bridget Kustin
9	Religion and Secularism in Neoliberal Capitalism	135
	Marian Burchardt
10	The Last Men before the Last: A Russian Messianic Revival in the Twilight of History	155
	Dominic Martin
11	The End of Ideology? Reconceptualizing Citizenship and Culture in a Post-(political) Place World	181
	Bree T. Hocking
12	Humanitarianism after the Cold War: The Case of Haiti	201
	Pierre Minn
13	The Uneasy Relationship between "China" and "Globalization" in Post-Cold War Scholarship	215
	Julie Michelle Klinger

14	New Human Rights Theories for Post-Constitutional Societies	235
	Ingo Richter
15	1989/91 as a Caesura in the Study of History: A Personal Retrospective	257
	Jürgen Kocka
	Index	271