

Contents

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| Acknowledgments   | ix  |
| Introduction: The Background to this Book and the Relevance of Foucault   | 1   |
| 1 The Social Context of Farming   | 21  |
| 2 The Dispossession of Aboriginals from Land: An Application of Foucault's Theories on Race and Sexuality               | 35  |
| 3 Property and the Governance of the Family Farm  | 47  |
| 4 Divorce Judgments and "Spatiality" and "Sexuality"  | 69  |
| 5 Governing at a Distance: The Role of Trusts in Structuring Family Life in Rural Australia                             | 83  |
| 6 Towards a "Family Provision Jurisprudence": A Case Study on Farming Inheritance Cases                                 | 113 |
| 7 Property, the Formation of the Pioneer State, and the Working of Power in Rural Australia                             | 135 |
| 8 Governing the Rural Family in Australia from a Distance: The Family Provision Act and the Role of "Expert Knowledges" | 155 |
| Bibliography  | 175 |
| Index   | 205 |
| About the Author  | 209 |